HSK Training Course

HSK is an international standardized exam that tests and rates Chinese language proficiency. The HSK course is a thematic course that is tailored towards HSK intermediate and advanced exam preparation. There are 3 levels in this course, namely:

HSK (Level 4)
Course

HSK (Level 5)
Course

HSK (Level 6)
Course

★ The textbooks are compiled by the School of Chinese as a Second Language, Peking University.

each with about 15 students

The Chinese online summer classes are taught in small classes, each with about 15 students. Classes of the same level with fewer than 8 students will be cancelled, in which case, students must choose other courses.

C
Course
requirements

Do you want to meet and talk with the experts in China Studies? Do you want to learn more about Chinese history and culture? Do you want to get some tips on mastering Chinese?

If so, "Dialogue with Experts," English language lecture series is for you. This summer, the series of lectures will invite well-known professors of Peking University to offer eight wonderful English lectures during July to August. Most of the lecturers and professors have been engaged in related teaching, scientific research and management for a long time. They have rich teaching experience and cultural exchange experience between East and West, and have made great achievements in cross-cultural communication and other fields. We believe that, attending these lectures, you can make friends from all over the world, broaden your international horizons, and gain insights.

Time

Lectures will be held once per week and last 1.5 hours each.

Announcement of the lecture series schedule will be made after the program begins.

Topics

Lecture topics will cover content such as Chinese history and culture, language learning methods, international relations, and finance and economy.

Certificate

Students who attend more than 75% of the lecture series will receive a certificate of attendance.

- Students should not come late to, leave early from or be absent from online classes.
- Students should ask for leave when unable to attend classes for any reason.
- If a student comes late or leaves early 3 times will be considered as one incident of absenteeism, which will lead to a loss in grade by 1 point for the exam, except for those who have asked for sick leave and have presented a doctor's note. Those who ask for a sick leave without a doctor's note will be considered as taking a personal leave. A personal leave (i.e., being absent for 2 class hours), will result in a loss in grade by 0.5 point for the exam.
- In principle, those who have accumulated absences totaling one fourth or more of the total number of class hours will be unable to obtain a grade for the course.
- Students who are unable to attend online classes on time due to time zone differences will not be considered absent if they complete their study within 48 hours after the end of the class.

Attendance
requirements

The overall course grade will be based upon 3 components: score on the course completion exam, scores on regular assignments and tests, and attendance.

Students will be offered an official transcript and a course completion certificate as a Short Overseas Exchange Program of Peking University.

Chinese Language Proficiency Evaluation

We will evaluate each student's Chinese proficiency based on the results of an online Chinese proficiency test and put students into classes based on their level for the group teaching. The specific test method will be announced by email after the students are admitted. Complete the online Chinese proficiency test within one week after receiving the email/message mentioned above. After being admitted, students of the Advanced Business Chinese Program (6 weeks) and HSK Level 4, Level 5, and Level 6 courses (6 weeks) do not need to take the online Chinese proficiency test; however, all other students must complete the test within that one week.

Special Note

Due to the impact of the coronavirus epidemic, in 2021, Peking University Chinese Summer School will be fully converted to online teaching. We will also proactively pay attention to the epidemic prevention, control policies and related requirements. If in March 2021 it is predicted that the summer school has the conditions for allowing students to attend the program in person, we will quickly open offline program application for everyone, and, at the same time, online programs will be kept synchronously.

In 2021, our program will award students who have made significant academic progress, outstanding performance, and excellent grades during the program with the title of "Chinese Star" and provide a scholarship. (The specific method will be notified in detail after the program starts, so stay tuned!)
